Burglars broke into and ransacked the living quarters of the rectory of the Nativity of Our Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church at Madison when the pastor, Rev. Eugene Vansuch, and his wife, were on vacation, Madison police reported Friday.

The burglary was discovered by Rev. and Mrs. Vansuch when they returned home Thursday evening.

Police said the thieves entered the rectory basement by forcing open a door on the north side of the building, which is located at 416 Ewing avenue. They stole a television set, a money order machine, a money order book, a bag of pennies, 20 cartons of cigarettes and a quantity of bacon were stolen in a burglary at Vartian's market, 1715 Chestnut street, it was reported at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

The burglars used a rock and a metal clothes pot to tear the door on the back door, then broke a pane of glass on the door to reach in and unlatch the door to enter the rectory office.

According to police the thieves did not ransack the office, but entered the living quarters where they thoroughly searched two bedrooms. Taken by the burglars were an assortment of jewelry and $60 in cash from one bedroom, and a portable television set and a radio from another bedroom.

Rev. Vansuch told police that a parishioner, Val Fryntko, who had been picking up the mail at the rectory, said he broke a pane of glass on the door last Tuesday evening but noticed nothing amiss at the time.

Airport Committee of County Board Formed

A special committee of the Madison county board of supervisors to study proposals for a major airport in the area was appointed last week by Harold Landolt, chairman of the board. William Straube, Edwardsville township assistant supervisor who was named committee chairman, is to call a meeting of the committee this week to begin its initial planning.

Others on the committee are Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City supervisor; Orvil Oglesby, Wood River township assistant supervisor; Michael Pellegrini, Collinsville township assistant supervisor; and Paul O. Riebold, Jarvis township supervisor.

The committee was formed shortly before the State Legislature authorized $50,000 for studies of a plan to provide 10 to 15 square miles for a major airport in the Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties area. Straube said his committee will:

Consider the county's support of legislation which has been presented to the State Senate; consider endorsing an airport site study by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council; consider reservation of land for an airport; and consider a report prepared by the Government Research Institute on whether there should be a metropolitan airport authority.

IRON ORE MINE and pellet plant, newest in the U. S., now operating in the Missouri Ozark Mountains to provide pellets for Granite City Steel's blast furnaces. This photo shows the buildings which house the concentrating and pelletizing facilities.

MORE ABOUT

duction at the new BOP plant which has a rated annual capacity of 2,200,000 tons of iron steel.

The underground deposit of magnetite ore at Pilot Knob extends from a depth of 400 feet downward to 1500 feet and is large enough to allow for many years of production. The ore is crushed and screened underground to a minus six inch size by a 42-inch by 48-inch jaw crusher.

The crude ore is then hoisted to the surface and reduced to the consistency of sand by a 5000 hp wet autogenous grinder, 27 feet in diameter. Magnetic separators concentrate the ore by dividing the iron from much of the waste rock and other materials.

The partially-upgraded product is mixed with water and pumped to one of the two ball mills which further pulverize the concentrate into "fines," material with about the same consistency as face powder. The concentrate is then pumped to finisher magnetic separators and to a thickener and disc filters for removal of most of the water.

Formed Into Pellets

The nearly dry concentrate is formed into balls or pellets, from 3/8 of an inch to 1/2 inch in diameter, in a balling drum.

The green pellets are fired or heat-hardened in a Dravo-Lurgi furnace with a traveling grate 10 feet wide and 184 feet long over 19 windboxes.

About 350 men are employed in the mine and surface facilities at Pilot Knob.

The pellets move from Pilot Knob to Granite City in a unit train operated by the Missouri Pacific Railroad. The first shipment consisted of 75 cars pulled by six locomotives.

Granite City Steel, largest steel company in this area, manufactures plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat rolled steel products. Hanna Mining is one of the world's largest independent producers and sellers of iron ore and the main supplier of ore to Granite City Steel.

Slick Track Spin Outs At Speedway Friday Night

Roy Hibbard of Marshall, Mo., won the feature event at Tri-City Speedway Friday night before a modest crowd because of the rainy weather. The track was slick and several cars spun out but only one major mishap occurred as Robert Fleming, 28, of Collinsville rolled his car five times in the third lap of the first heat.

Fleming was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital unconscious and is being held for examinations. He suffered abrasions and contusions to his back and both legs.

Roy Cary of Booneville, Mo., was the fastest qualifier of the evening with a time of 24:57 and won the third heat race. He also placed third in the feature event.

Ron Perkins, a Granite City, Mo., placed second in the feature event and was third in the second heat race. This was the first week that Perkins has not had car trouble, after being plagued with several breakdowns at race time.

In the first heat, Kenny Range of Cahokia placed first with Bill Meyers of East Alton second and Chuck Lynch of Springfield third. Gene Hamner and Charles Botten placed second and third in the third heat. Hibbard won the trophy dash, followed across the line by Bill Uyt of Sedalia, Mo., and Chuck Lynch.

Jim Hall of Carleton, Mo., won the consolation race as Loren Salmons of St. Charles was second and Tom Rushing of St. Louis was third.

Quail Population In State is the Highest in 10 Years

The quail population is higher than it has been for the last 10 years, according to the Illinois Department of Conservation. Sportsmen should have excellent hunting unless a wet fall hinders corn picking operations.

Pheasant numbers are about as high as they were last year. Hunting was poor in 1967 because of an unusually large amount of corn was still standing during the first two weeks of the season. Fewer pheasants were killed and the winter carryover was good. Pheasant breeding success was a slightly lower this spring but this decrease was offset by the number of adult cocks that survived the winter.

The hunting season for quail, cock pheasant and Hungarian partridge will begin at noon, Saturday, Nov. 16, and end at sunset, Tuesday, Dec. 31.

Rabbit season will be open for birds per day and 16 in possession. The limits for cock pheasant and partridge will be the same as in previous seasons, two per day and four in possession. On the first day of the season the possession limit may not exceed the daily kill limit for any game.

The Hungarian partridge is a northern Illinois bird. The population of partridge is equal to 1967. Rabbit season will begin at noon, Saturday, Nov. 16, and end at sunset, Friday, Jan. 31. Five rabbits may be killed in a day and 10 retained in possession, except on opening day when the possession limit is five.

Game surveys indicate that the cottontail population in the western and southern sections of the state is higher than it was last year. In northern Illinois the population is at about the same level as it was in 1967.

Local K. of C. Team Takes 4th in Tourney

A softball team from the Tri-City Knights of Columbus council lost two games yesterday in the Mascoutah K. of C. invitational slow-pitch softball tournament but came home with a fourth-place trophy in the 12-team event.

The local squad was edged by Trenton 9-7 in the semi-final game and lost to Collinsville 5-2 in the consolation game. Pitchers were Carl Petty in the first game and Don Stanton in the second, while Alpg Haug worked behind the plate in both. Alton won the title by defeating Trenton 10-6.

All baseball games scheduled in the Nameoki-Pontoon Little League and the Mitchell Khoury League were postponed Friday evening because of wet diamonds.

UNLEASHING BATTING POWER to drive the ball to left field for a double in the first inning is Dave Sparks, second baseman for Mercers team in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League here Sunday. The Mercer club took over first place in the Blue Division by downing division-leading Pocatons 3-2. The catcher is Denny Warning and the umpire is Don Rains.

Mercer Tries Harder, Now No. 1 Team Instead of No. 2

Mercer's Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League team took a half-game lead in the Blue Division Sunday afternoon at Wilson Park by slipping past the Pochontas Braves 5-2.

The Braves, in first place going into the game, slipped into a tie for second place as the East Alton Machinists beat Granite City Steel Credit Union 4-2 at East Alton.

Mercer is 8-4 for the season, the Braves and Machinists each 8-3 and Credit Union 2-10 in the Blue Division.

The Red Division league champions, Mollitor Motors of Collinsville, downed Maryville 14-2 Sunday as Jesse Young hit three home runs to tie an Inter-City League record. East St. Louis shut out Troy 5-0.

Mercer Takes Lead

Mercer scored twice in the bottom of the first inning as Harold Tanksley led off with a single, Dave Sparks doubled to drive him home and Charles Johannigler doubled.

The Braves had scored in the top of that inning when Dale Rommerskirchen reached base on a fielder's choice and scored later on a single by John Hutchison.

Tom McCasland honored for Pochontas in the sixth to even the score.

The winners scored again in the seventh. Rick Lynn hit an infield grounder to score Maurice Sanderson, who had led off the inning with a single and reached second and third on grounders and an error by the pitcher.

Winning pitcher was Sanderson. He hurled for seven innings before being relieved by Jim Rains in the ninth-inning game. The loser was Dave Rommerskirchen. Mercer hit the Braves 7-2.

East Alton opened its scoring in the third inning on two singles and a double.

Credit Union Ties Score

Credit Union came back to make it 2-1 in the fourth on a double by Jeff Jones, an infield hit by Larry Dillard and a double steal. The Granite Cityans then tied the score in the fifth inning on a hit by Steve Lengyel, an infield out and a hit by Greg Patton.

East Alton won the game with two more runs in the fifth on a single, double and triple.

The local club had potential tying runs on base in the eighth and ninth innings, but couldn't get them across. Larry Dillard led Credit Union with three of its ten hits.

The loser was Steve Lengyel, who pitched four and two-thirds innings before being relieved by Pat Harris. Lengyel gave up five hits and walked one while Harris gave up three hits and walked one.

GC Vikings New State Slow Pitch Champions

The Clark Vikings, which finished third in the Granite City regional, won the state slow pitch softball tournament at Caseyville Sunday evening, beating Wells Fargo of Moline, Ill., 4-2 in the final game of the evening.

The Vikings could have won it by taking a game with once-beaten Wells Fargo earlier last night, but instead the Moline Squad toppled undefeated Clark's 17-11. The repeat contest then followed.

The local team scored once in the top of the second inning, only to have Wells Fargo score twice in the bottom of the frame with three two-out hits. Jess Ybarra led off with a triple and scored on a sacrifice by Jim Rains for the Granite City squad.

In the sixth inning, the Vikings produced five straight singles after two men were sent to score an additional three runs as Jim Rains, Tony Root, Larry Rippey, Tom Tindal and Don Rains connected.

Six-Hitter by Antoff
Winning pitcher was Sonny Antoff, who hurled a six-hitter. His team backed him with flawless fielding, while Wells Fargo made two errors in the game.

In the earlier game Sunday evening, the Vikings won out from behind an 11-5 deficit with six runs in the seventh inning to tie the game, but Wells Fargo scored another six runs in the top of the eighth.

The Vikings had what would have been the winning run in the seventh thrown out at the plate. The runner was trying to score on a long pop fly.

Three other Granite City teams also competed in the tournament. Granite City Steel Credit Union was eliminated early in the tournament, losing to O'Fallon Bowl 6-5 and then to Packett Dairy. The Credit Union had won first place previously in the Granite City regional, from which four teams advanced to state.

Holiday Mobile Homes won its first two games 11-6 over East St. Louis and 7-1 over Caseyville before being beaten by Collinsville 8-6 and then losing to Kankakee.

Sammy's Eliminated
Sammy's Tavern, which was second in the Granite City regional, won its first game at Caseyville against Decatur 8-1, but then was defeated by Caseyville 6-3 and by East St. Louis.

On their road to the championship, the Vikings beat Packett Dairy 14-13, O'Fallon Bowl 12-5, C&S Trucking 13-7 and O'Neals in the semi-finals. The Vikings will next compete in the midwestern regional at Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 15-18. If they win there, they will go to the world tournament Aug. 30-Sept. 2 at Long Island, N.Y.

Belleville Season, Playoff Champions
The Belleville American Legion baseball team won a decision in court Thursday afternoon that reversed an earlier ruling that the team must forfeit the league games it had won this season. Its 13 wins in 14 starts were restored, making Belleville the champion.

The Belleville team then advanced to weekend playoffs against Collinsville, winning the three-game series. Belleville lost 3-1 but then came back to win 7-1 and 2-1.

Branson-Mueller Memorial Sprint Car Race Aug. 17

Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki road, will be the site of the annual Don Branson-Dale Mueller Memorial race Saturday, Aug. 17, with U. S. Auto club sprint cars competing.

The race is expected to be the only one of its kind in the area this season. It will feature cars in between the size of midjet racers and USAC championship models.

Usual time trial and racing starting times have been pushed back an hour, to 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. This will give the drivers a chance to motor here from Springfield after competing in the 100-mile championship event at the Illinois State Fair that afternoon.

Cyclist Kenn Aff 4th Win Tomorrow

Veteran Neil Keen of Pasadena, Calif., and rookie Gordon Dusenberry of Wichita, Kan., will renew their battle for top honors Tuesday night when professional motorcycle racing returns to Tri-City Speedway.

Keen has captured the last three feature events but young Dusenberry has been right on his heels the last two weeks and is ready to move in should Keen make the slightest mistake.

The two will be joined by Darrel Dovel, Atlanta, Ga., Ben Breeding, Springfield, Ill., and other top AMA motorcycle riders from throughout the U. S.

The motorcycles run on a high-banked quarter-mile oval track, and are sometimes tilted at an angle that makes spectators wonder how they keep from crashing.

The program will begin with practice runs at 7:30 p.m.

Boy Scout Camp Again Presented Top Rating

Camp Sumner, the Potomac, Mo., campsite of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, won its fifth successive national "A" rating in the official annual inspection Friday.

Judging was based on the Boy Scouts of America "car 100 plan," including the condition of camp facilities and the quality of the camping program.

Election Contest Suit To Be Tried Wednesday

The contest of the election of Marion Groshing as Republican committeeman of Venice township Precinct No. 1 will be heard at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville before Associate Judge Foss Meyer of Greenville.

The election judges gave Groshing, the incumbent, a 19 to 1 victory over John Mangiaracino, a write-in candidate, but a complaint filed by Thelma Flester claimed that Mangiaracino received at least 21 write-in votes. Mangiaracino was listed on the Democratic ballot for committeeman in an attempt to unseat Walter "Buck" Simmons.

Dr. Billings, Democrat, Backs Thomas of GOP

Dr. W. W. Billings, Alton Democrat who served as Madison county coroner for much of the last 36 years, today endorsed Robert Thomas, the Republican coroner nominee, for election in November. Thomas operates the Mercer mortuary here and Coroner Leonard R. Davis, Democratic nominee, operates the Davis funeral home.

Dr. Billings assailed Davis in today's comments for denying an allegation prior to the June primary election. Dr. Billings contended that a chief deputy coroner is being paid for the first time, and Davis said it has been customary.

"Let's look at the record,"

Dr. Billings said in citing photostatic copies of documents at the county courthouse. He noted that William C. Marks is being paid $305 a month.

"Political Plum"

Associated with the Marks funeral home in Wood River, Dr. Billings said in citing death investigations north of the Hartford canal, with Coroner Davis handling the area south of the canal. Dr. Billings said, adding that the salaried chief deputy job is a "political plum" rewarding Marks for Alton-Wood River area political support given Davis.

Initials on records indicate that Davis' wife, Hulda, is handling some or all of the bookkeeping records at apparently no remuneration, Dr. Billings asserted.

"She's a lovely woman, but I think this information should be made public. There is no substitute for the truth."

Mrs. Billings Paid as Clerk

The distinction made by Dr. Billings is that Billings' wife served as chief deputy without pay but received "clerk hire" wages of $230 and later $275 a month for serving as stenographer, doing the bookkeeping.

Dr. Billings asserted.

"I appeared at nearly all homicide and murder inquests and conducted them in cooperation with my deputies. And I knew the facts on all deaths and ruled on them."

Dr. Billings expressed concern over a notation of $380.00 excess fees due the county on the May 31, 1968, semiannual report. "I interpret this to mean that he owes the county this much in fees," he remarked.

The physician said the pay of Chief Deputy Marks was set by the county board at $275 and then $305 monthly by the County Board of Supervisors following authorization by a circuit judge. Marks received $1830 for the half-year ending May 31.

Formerly Supported Burke

At the time he resigned, Dr. Billings backed Thomas Burke, Alton funeral director, but the county board chose Davis for the vacancy in a close vote.

In discussing the upcoming coroner election between two Granite Cityans, Dr. Billings said he disagrees with the answers Coroner Davis gave in

Father Wields Knife, Threatens to Kill Son

They started yelling and slapping each other before the father got the knife from a cabinet and threatened to kill the son, deputies were told. The youth fled to the home of a neighbor who called the sheriff's office. The injuries were not serious.

lection of a candidate got under way, the names of three Granite City men were being mentioned among Democratic committeemen as potential candidates for the Democratic nomination. These include Fred Schuman of Granite City, now an associate judge, and John Gilchoff and William Beatty, both Granite City lawyers.

Considered for Post

While none of these men has made any statement of candidacy, it was learned that Democratic leaders have been considering them for the nomination.

Decision to seek a Quad-City candidate for the judgeship reportedly was reached because the area does not have a circuit judge on the bench. Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr is of Wood River, Judge James O. Monroe is of Collinsville, and Judge Harold R. Clark is of Alton.

Madison county has been served by three circuit judges since the judicial reform program became effective in Illinois in January, 1964. The number of judges was determined by population and by the number of counties within the judicial district. It provided also that county, probate and city judges in office at the time the act became effective would serve as associate circuit judges.

Five Associate Judges

These terms of the act gave Madison county five associate judges, four of them from Madison county. They were Schuman, I. H. Streeper, Michael Kinney and the late Austin Lewis. The fifth is Ross D. Meyer, formerly county judge of Bond county.

Meyer became an associate judge under a provision of the judicial reform act that guar-anted at least one associate justice from each county within a judicial district.

Judge Barr pointed out today that under this arrangement, the Third Judicial Circuit of Madison and Bond county regularly is entitled to four associate judges, while served by only three circuit judges.

"At the time of the change-over we were under the impression that the ratio should be three circuit judges from Madison county, and two associate judges from Madison county. The addition of Judge Meyer from Bond county under terms of the act giving all counties at least one associate judge would bring the total to an equal ratio of three circuit judges and three associate judges," Judge Barr said.

Provides 4 Associates

"We later checked the law and determined that it provided Madison county with three circuit judges and three associate judges," Judge Barr added. He noted that with the addition of the Bond county judge to the district there would be entitled to four associate judges. Under the act, however, all judges in county, city or probate posts at the time of the changeover, would continue to serve until death or retirement reduced the number to the legal maximum provided by the act. The recent death of Associate Judge Lewis did this.

Chris Kaye Plastics Manufacturing Co., 1200 Madison avenue, was closed this morning by a strike resulting from a break-off of negotiations for a new contract. About 25 employees are involved according to Chris Kacaleff, president of the company.

Kacaleff said he had no comment presently as to the cause of a deadlock in negotiations, but that it did not involve wages or working conditions. The old contract covered a two-year period.

Sternberg, left, of Granite City, president of Optimist International, by Robert L. Billington, assistant chief scout executive. Sternberg has pledged to increase Optimist-supported scout units from 786 with 23,580 boys to 829 units by the end of 1969.

Optimist President Pledges 'Extra Lift' to Boy Scouts

A pledge to "give Scouting an extra lift" was made Thursday by Gene H. Sternberg, president of Optimist International, as he visited the national office of the Boy Scouts of America in New Brunswick, N. J.

The organization of 88,241 men has among its objects "to aid and encourage the development of youth." Optimists are known as "friends of the boy." In 1968, its clubs sponsored 54 scout units. Today, there are 786 units under its banner, reaching 23,580 boys. By the end of 1969, it expects to sponsor 829 units.

Sternberg, president of the general contracting firm of G. H. Sternberg & Co., said he visited the Boy Scouts' headquarters to learn "how to do the job" and to "jointly make strides to get kids, including those in disadvantaged areas, to become scouts."

He said he wants to "sell scouting" to the organization's 41 district governors, encouraging clubs to form additional sponsored units.

Sternberg is not a newcomer to scouting. As a boy in 1931, he became a scout and attained Life Scout rank. Later, he was active in sea scouting.

From 1961 to 1964 he was president of the Cahokia Mound Council here, received the Silver Beaver award for distinguished service to boyhood in 1963 and Region Seven's Silver Antelope award last fall in Detroit. He has been a member of the region's executive committee since 1965 and was its regional Explorer chairman.

His civic and professional organization activities include: president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association Industry Advancement Foundation; member of the board of trustees of Eureka College, Eureka, Ill.; United Fund drive chairman; Cancer Fund director; Chamber of Commerce director; and Coordinated Youth Services.

Participating with Sternberg in last week's discussions were Jack Quick, Louisville, Ky., chairman of the Boy's Work program of Optimist International; and Lou Jurinich, Boy's Work director on the Optimist International staff.

PEACH HARVEST STARTS

Commercial peach harvest has started in southern Illinois. There are some early peach varieties ripening in this area also, but the crop is very short.

As peaches ripen, they are very susceptible to the brown rot disease. This is the rot that develops just at harvest time for many gardeners.

Brown rot can be successfully treated by spraying or dusting with a captan/carbaryl mixture at five-day intervals, even up to the day before picking. The carbaryl controls the insects that break the skin for the disease to enter. The captan prevents new disease development. It will not stop the rot if infection has occurred before application.

Plums are as susceptible to brown rot as peaches. Use the same control measures until harvest.

General Steel Earnings Sales Up for 6 Months

General Steel Industries, Inc., had consolidated net sales of $32,842,001 in the three months ended June 30, with earnings for the second quarter of $1,133,000 equal to 46 cents per share, W. Ashley Gray Jr., GSI president announced Friday.

Gray said in the next six months GSI earnings are expected to show continued improvement over last year.

He announced production is now under way at St. Louis Car Division on 400 air-conditioned subway cars for the New York City Transit Authority. The car division expects to receive soon an order for 200 additional air-conditioned cars under an option in the contract on which GSI was successful bidder last January. The division has just completed delivery of 200 fan-ventilated cars for New York. Backlog of orders at June 30, 1968 was $55,000,000 compared with $94,500,000 last Dec. 31, and not including recent orders for 200 freight cars and the 200 New York option cars.

State Air Board Oks Program for Union Electric

The Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, meeting Thursday in Chicago, approved the control program proposed by Union Electric Co., Venice, for reduction in power generation and distribution of reduced load among all boilers by Dec. 31, 1972.

The board continued the setting of a hearing date on Fox Bros. Industrial Corp., Madison, until Aug. 27.

The board also directed its staff to begin immediately the drafting of limiting concentrations of several pollutants that the board might consider adopting as objective for its control program.

These pollutants include sulfur compounds, particulates, nitrogen oxides, oxides of carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons, metal oxides and odors.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Aug. 27 at Rockford.

Route 40 Widening Job Deferred by State

Widening of Route 40 from Collinsville to Illinois Route 111 which originally was scheduled for the July 23 bid letting by the state highway department has been shelved, according to Robert Kronst, highway district engineer at the French Village office.

Kronst said he has received orders from highway officials at Springfield that the project has been deferred, which, he said, means it has been shelved until the people say they want it. He pointed out the project did not originate at the district office, but that it appeared among priority projects because of the high rate of accidents occurring on the highway, particularly at the Black Lane intersection.

LeMaster, president of Granite City Police Local 1347. The two union officials related the occurrences of last week and said the picket line would remain at the city hall, manned by off-duty police and firemen, "until an agreement is reached."

Text of the union officials' statement follows: "Pickets are still around city hall today by firefighters and policemen. We feel that with the events of last week, the committee from the city council does not want to bargain in good faith."

"We were informed Wednesday through the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council that the committee from the city council would meet with us if we withdrew our picket line. We refused to withdraw the pickets, but agreed to meet in a place away from the city hall, but the pickets stay. The committee from the council rejected our offer to meet away from the city hall."

"On Friday, a contact was made again through the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council, stating that the city committee would agree to meet with us if we would exclude Harold Benedict, the international union representative for the police union."

"We were told that the city committee felt that Mr. Benedict was the stumbling block in the negotiations. After consulting with Mr. Benedict, we agreed to meet without him being present. Mr. Benedict agreed to exclude himself from this meeting, hoping negotiations could resume."

"The city committee demanded also that we meet in a mass meeting with the unions representing all city employees. We feel that this is our fight and at the present time, the other unions are not involved."

"There has been no further contact, but we are willing to meet anytime with the city committee. The city committee still refuses to meet with us. The pickets will remain until we reach an agreement."

"Base pay for a policeman and firefighter is $79 per month. Including 3% longevity, base pay is $82.70 per month. Take home pay is $79.00 per month. After deductions, it is $74.39, twice a month. With a $100 per month increase, bring home pay would be $74.39, twice a month. There is only a slight differential between the ranks in each department. These figures are based on a family of four. We don't feel that a $100 per month increase is an unreasonable request."

"As we are not being treated fairly, we are asking everyone to honor our picket line. We help we can receive from anyone or anywhere to help resolve this problem will be greatly appreciated."

Illinoisans Can Change Their Names Legally In Or Out of Court

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

Your name is Kerzysky? You can become Jones. It's Smithythes? You can become Smith.

In Illinois, it's so easy to change your name that hundreds of people do it every year.

A person may go through legal procedures to have his name changed by court action. This usually is advisable. The operation is simple, quick and inexpensive.

However, it is not absolutely necessary to go to court. A person can change his name simply by starting to use a new name. As long as the change is not made for a fraudulent purpose, it's perfectly legal.

At times, lawyers receive questions like the one woman who was worried because her husband had shortened his name from 18 syllables to two, without going to court. He had used the short name on his marriage license. Her question: Were they legally married?

The Illinois law of names came as a happy surprise to her.

The same was true of the man who for years had used one middle initial, and then discovered that the one on his birth certificate was different. His legal documents still were valid because he had acted in good faith. Simplification of a name which has many syllables, with strange combinations of consonants, is only one reason for a name change. There are others.

A stepfather may wish his children to have his last name. Or people with a name from their homeland may find that it means something not very nice, perhaps even unprintable, in this country.

The person who has lived in Illinois for at least six months can file a petition in circuit court for a change of name. If the court is satisfied that there is no reason why the change should not be granted, the name will become a matter of court record.

If a person plans to use an assumed name for the purpose of conducting a business, the rules are a little different. That person must file the appropriate papers with the clerk of the county where the business is to be transacted and take other legal steps.

Raise Salaries of Police, Firemen

To the Editor:

City officials, please grant our police and firemen the pay they deem necessary to live on. They are dedicated men and servants and unquestionably will lay down their lives in the pursuit of their respective duties.

I have been a citizen of this city for forty years and I have never known a feeling of unappreciation from these fine departments.

I am afraid many people do not give enough credit to these men, who sacrifice both their lives and health for us. They would be impossible to replace. They have children and families, and evidently not for the pay involved.

I have never grieved about my taxes, but I have a real gripe now. I want these men to get whatever they are in need of, and I am sure the people of Granite City have been taxed enough to cover it.

Let's put our money where it does the most work.

Tax Question—Air-Conditioning Installed As a Health Measure

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q. I just air-conditioned my house on my doctor's recommendation. Can I deduct this as a medical expense next year?

A. Part of the cost of the air-conditioning may be considered a medical expense if your doctor recommended it for the treatment of a specific condition or illness. You should obtain a statement from your doctor to this effect and keep it with your tax records.

If the air-conditioning has been recommended by your doctor, then you should calculate what its installation has added to the value of your house. The cost of the air-conditioning in excess of this increase may then be added to your other medical expenses.

Q. I was interviewed by a company that offered me a job. Must I include as income the money they gave me as reimbursement for my travel expenses to and from the interview?

A. No, generally, this does not have to be declared as income unless the money received was for a taxable purpose.

Q. A. Whether a truck is taxable depends on its type and weight. Details are contained in Publication No. 349, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck-Tractors and Buses." Send a postcard to your district IRS office for a free copy.

Brief But Constructive Session By Illinois General Assembly

Whether constructive actions can be taken at a special Illinois legislative session has been demonstrated conclusively by the two-week session which came to an end Thursday afternoon. Bipartisan cooperation is possible, even in an election year, it became evident.

Among various actions, the General Assembly authorized for a second time construction of a $4 million physical education building at SIU-SW, avoiding loss of an available federal grant.

Approved a $60 million state fund loan to tide the Illinois government over a late 1968-early 1969 financial shortage.

Provided $50,000 to finance or partly finance a site and feasibility study for a Madison-St. Clair counties airport that may serve as the second major airport for the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Enacted a law outlining police powers to halt and search persons suspected of committing or being about to commit a crime.

Provided a fourth circuit judge for Madison county to offset the loss of a judge by death this year, and set identical salaries of $25,000 for circuit and associate circuit judges. The new judge is expected to be elected this November.

Restricted insurance policy cancellations and established insurance industry machinery for pooling of fire and other risks in slums and riot-afflicted areas.

Legalized municipal ordinances requiring fairness in property sales, renting and financing.

Made draft card burning a felony punishable by a $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Set a $5000 fine and five-year prison term as the maximum penalty for mutilating or desecrating the American flag.

Required hospitals, nurses and doctors to report cases of malnutrition to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Voted needed amendments to the $1 billion state water-air-recreation bond issue which will appear on the ballot Nov. 5.

Authorized county boards to raise the pay of state's attorneys.

Boosted legislators' yearly pay from $9000 to $12,000.

Enabled university governing boards to sell revenue bonds for construction projects at 6% rather than 5%, due to the existing bond market condition.

Allowed patients with other types of pulmonary diseases to be treated at county tuberculosis sanitariums, and permitted sanitariums to be closed if adequate outpatient facilities are maintained.

Permitted the Illinois Building Authority to proceed with sale of bonds and awarding of contracts to build regional state office buildings in Collinsville and Marion, after expiration of previous authority.

Approved a $1,500,000 supplementary appropriation for bonuses to the increasing number of Vietnam war veterans.

All or nearly all of these bills are likely to methods. Republican leaders in the House of Representatives were able to add to this title a distinctive Republican feature—that grants be given in block form to the state for administration.

Another title of the act makes it a federal offense for the first time for individuals to engage in wiretapping, but provides that a law enforcement agent may use electronic surveillance in their pursuit of crime. No law enforcement officers may use them, however, without a court order.

In days when organized crime relies on word-of-mouth information and seldom on writing, electronic surveillance can become an effective law enforcement tool that is worth trying.

I was pleased to be able to propose, and have the Senate and House approve, several other amendments which I feel greatly strengthened the Crime Control act.

One will provide for the recruitment of Community Service Officers from the slums and ghettos to serve as police assistants. The young officers will provide effective communication between the police and the inner city residents. It is an exciting new concept in law enforcement—a concept recommended by both the President's Crime and Kerner commissions.

Two other successful proposals which I sponsored last year were added to the bill. They will increase the effectiveness of federal search warrants and enlarge the right of appeal from court orders suppressing evidence in federal criminal cases.

These laws were necessary to strengthen the hand of the federal law enforcement agents and give needed assistance to our police against rising crime rates. Insistence on law and order is essential. But it is only a part of the crime problem that confronts us.

The root cause of crime—the hopelessness and despair which have sprung up in our high crime areas because of the lack of adequate jobs, housing and education—needs attention.

The Omnibus Crime Bill and the Omnibus Housing Bill, both of which I have cosponsored, have assisted in the broad attack being launched at the federal level to give justice and opportunity to all citizens.

Officials in Chicago, where giant strides are being made to combat pollution, estimate that more than two billion gallons of water carrying treated sewage are released each day from the city into its canals and branches of the Chicago River.

Of the major rivers, the Illinois River is the most seriously polluted all along its meandering route. It must carry the treated waste load from the entire Chicago metropolitan area. Sewage treatment in the Chicago Sanitary District plants is more than 90% efficient, but there is still a problem. The load is just too great.

Illinois in 1818—Slavery Chief Issue in First Vote Campaign for Constitution Convention Delegates

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

When the movement for statehood was inaugurated in Illinois in November 1817, little was thought of it at first.

As time passed, however, and favorable news began to arrive from Washington in the late winter and early spring of 1818, the movement began to attract more attention and likewise more opposition.

The principal opposition to the statehood movement developed from the advocates of slavery and although the slavery issue was not clear-cut—it was the most important issue in the Constitutional Convention election.

The discussion revolved about this question: Some argued that Illinois should not be admitted as a free state because that would seriously handicap it from an industrial and population standpoint.

Others argued that it was proper industrially as well as morally to eliminate slavery.

The complicated nature of the slavery question, doubtless, enabled many of the candidates for convention delegates to evade the vital issues of existing slavery and the indenture system by merely declaring themselves opposed to the admission of slavery.

The representatives of three counties, Union, Johnson and Edwards, all voted on the anti-slavery side at every point, and it is quite likely that the slavery issue played a considerable part in their elections.

Of the four unsuccessful candidates in Union county, two held slaves.

In Johnson county, only one candidate, who was not elected, was a slave holder and an active advocate of the toleration of slavery in Illinois. He is said to have been defeated by a few votes.

In Edwards county, it is possible that Morris Birkbeck may have exerted an influence against slavery even as early as this election.

All the representatives of Gallatin, Randolph and Jackson counties voted consistently for the recognition of the indenture system and existing slavery.

The importance of the saline, the operation of which depended on slave labor, is sufficient to explain the situation in Gallatin.

In Randolph county, Elias Kent Kane is said to have declared that "If Dr. Fisher should be elected as his colleague, he, Mr. Kane, would consider himself instructed to vote for the introduction of slavery."

"But if Mr. McFarren was elected as his colleague, then he would consider himself instructed to vote against slavery."

The result of the deliberations of the convention, which definitely eliminated slavery, is sufficient evidence that the sentiment of the people was against slavery.

Curb Teenage, Adult Lawlessness While Eliminating Despair Through Improved Homes, Jobs, Schooling

By U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois

In recent years, assassins' bullets have struck down many of the leaders of our nation. The victims have come from every segment of our population—Malcolm X, George Lincoln Rockwell, Medgar Evers, John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., Robert F. Kennedy.

There is hardly a group that has been exempted.

Here in the nation's capital, day in and day out, crime is our biggest single concern as it affects the citizens living here.

One night last month, a youth was shot and killed just a few blocks from my home. The next night, two fine Marine Corps officers were murdered in cold blood as they ate hamburger in a sandwich shop just six blocks from my home.

During my first six months in Washington, of approximately 40 office employees, five young ladies and one of our young men have had the following crimes committed upon them—a partner broken into, apartment broken into and theft, wheels stolen from car, mugging and wallet stolen, prowler outside house, drive shaft stolen from car, and stolen car.

I have been impressed first with the lawlessness of the nation's capital today and the necessity of doing something to drastically reverse the present methods. Republican leaders in the House of Representatives were able to add to this title a distinctive Republican feature—that grants be given in block form to the state for administration.

Another title of the act makes it a federal offense for the first time for individuals to engage in wiretapping, but provides that a law enforcement agent may use electronic surveillance in their pursuit of crime. No law enforcement officers may use them, however, without a court order.

In days when organized crime relies on word-of-mouth information and seldom on writing, electronic surveillance can become an effective law enforcement tool that is worth trying.

I was pleased to be able to propose, and have the Senate and House approve, several other amendments which I feel greatly strengthened the Crime Control act.

One will provide for the recruitment of Community Service Officers from the slums and ghettos to serve as police assistants. The young officers will provide effective communication between the police and the inner city residents. It is an exciting new concept in law enforcement—a concept recommended by both the President's Crime and Kerner commissions.

Two other successful proposals which I sponsored last year were added to the bill. They will increase the effectiveness of federal search warrants and enlarge the right of appeal from court orders suppressing evidence in federal criminal cases.

These laws were necessary to strengthen the hand of the federal law enforcement agents and give needed assistance to our police against rising crime rates. Insistence on law and order is essential. But it is only a part of the crime problem that confronts us.

The root cause of crime—the hopelessness and despair which have sprung up in our high crime areas because of the lack of adequate jobs, housing and education—needs attention.

The Omnibus Crime Bill and the Omnibus Housing Bill, both of which I have cosponsored, have assisted in the broad attack being launched at the federal level to give justice and opportunity to all citizens.

SIU Specialist Gives Tips On Keeping Bluegrass Green

Is the bluegrass in your lawn getting brown, too?

Don't be alarmed, says Donald M. Elkins, forage specialist and assistant professor of plant industries at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

When hot and dry weather hits southern Illinois in late July and August, bluegrass takes a rest (goes dormant), it will turn green and grow again when rains come in the fall and the temperatures cool slightly, especially if the lawn gets a light dose of nitrogen fertilizer. Bluegrass will take its second rest period in winter.

Parched lawns are common in southern Illinois now with only widely scattered light showers registered during the first half of July and subnormal rainfall in some parts of the area during June.

Elkins says grass lawns can be kept green longer in the summer by adequate irrigation if the householder has a cheap source of water or doesn't mind paying a hefty water bill. Keeping a bluegrass lawn green in the summer calls for a light midsummer application of nitrogen and plenty of water, either from rains, as in 1967, or from watering.

Sprinkling the lawn lightly every day does more harm than good. It encourages shallow rooting which reduces the ability of the grass to survive summer droughts, and helps crabgrass to grow better. The best watering system calls for soaking the sod thoroughly to a depth of five or six inches once or twice weekly.

A good lawn fertility program calls for a fall application of commercial fertilizer with an analysis of 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 at the rate of about 10 pounds per 100 square feet to give the lawn a lot of vigor going into the winter; and then making light applications of the high-nitrogen lawn fertilizers or ammonium nitrate early in the spring and again in mid-summer, being sure to water the lawn after the applications if rains are not forthcoming.

Elkins says the high nitrogen fertilizer is preferred because it is a grass food. The potassium and phosphorus encourages the growth of clovers and such weeds as may have invaded the lawn.

John Rendleman, chancellor of the local campus, testified that there were 8300 students on the campus last fall with a projected figure of 10,000 students this fall, and that there is no physical education facility on the campus.

All Kinds of Maps Needed at SIU-SW

Wanted... New or Used Maps.

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus needs maps to add to its library, according to earth sciences faculty member and map librarian Robert Koepke.

There is a need for all kinds of maps, including local street maps and regular highway maps. Koepke issued the plea in hopes that area residents who have used maps or picked them up on vacation trips might like to give them to the University.

Through previous appeals the University has been able to add to its collection. However, frequent highway improvements, updating of city maps, and needs of students makes the request a constant one, he explained.

Currently the SIU library includes 45,000 maps, about half of which are world maps. Persons may mail the maps directly to Koepke at SIU, Edwardsville.

Clean Blades Cut Best
Keep electric can openers sharp and sanitary.

From elephant meat to seal eggs, milk to macaroni—just about anything is liable to end up in a can these days. In fact, the average household opens anywhere from 500 to 1500 of these metal cocoons every year. And, to "cut corners" conveniently, many women have been outfitting their kitchens with electric can openers.

In most models, the cutter completely severs the top which is lifted out of the way by a magnet, while the can itself is held in place until removed.

Manually controlled electric openers require the lever or button to be positioned through the entire cutting cycle. In most automatic types, the lever is pressed only long enough to puncture the can and start the cycle. The motor shafts lift off when the can is opened.

The majority have front openers, although some models feature an opening where the handle is located. The lever is positioned on the side of the case. Every electric opener has either a cutting wheel that cuts freely or a stationary cutter—wheel or blade—that pierces the can, then removes the lid as the can is turned against it. Fixed cutters can maneuver the corners of square or rectangular cans more successfully; those on new models open all sizes and shapes of cans.

Any type of cutting device must be kept clean because it is sure to become encrusted with food. This clogs its action, and highly unsanitary and transfer flavor from one food to the next.

When blades are forced through a can, metal particles may fall into its content, so both cutting wheels and stationary blades should be kept sharp; also, a clean cutter remains sharp longer. It should be wiped with a sudsy cloth after use, then removed and scrubbed in hot soap or detergent suds at frequent intervals.

Electric can openers should never be immersed in water because of motor damage and assembly must come out for thorough washing. Some types are difficult to remove, a factor to consider when buying an opener. Models with enclosed parts are usually easiest to clean.

Wheat Average Varies
Wheat variety test plots harvested at Bergmann-Taylor Seeds, St. Jacob yielded 45.9 bushels per acre average of all varieties, nearly nine bushels per acre less than last year's average of 54.3 bushels average at that location. Wheat yields in general are lower throughout the county this year.

Yields of each variety in the test plots was Gage, 35.8 bushels per acre; Monon, 47.1 bu.; Benhur, 46.7 bu.; Triumph, 45.3 bu.; Riley 67, 42.6 bu.; and Knox 62, 40.9 bu.

Gage and Triumph are hard wheat varieties, and the others are soft wheats. Soft wheats varieties usually yield more than hard wheats, but this year a hard wheat variety, Gage, was the top yielder.

Farmers are cautioned, as usual, against using results from one set of plots and one year's results as a guide in choosing a variety. Yield averages for each variety at many locations for several years in this area of Illinois are available to serve as a guide in selecting varieties.

Wheat plots on the Merle Esplanched farm near Alhambra were not harvested for yield check because of several drowned-out areas in the plots.

Q. Why can't bread recipes be specific—when they list a certain amount of flour, how much flour should be added?

A. A bread recipe must take many things into consideration. Among them, the different types of flour and the various sizes of eggs that may be used. These factors are discussed briefly below. But, to answer the question as directly as possible, the best advice for a breadmaker, experienced or inexperienced, is to start with the minimum amount of flour, being careful to add only enough flour so the dough is not sticky, and can be handled easily.

Many can openers include one or more added accessories—such as bottle opener, knife sharpener, knife-and-scissors sharpener, ice crusher and even a pencil sharpener. It is important to wash and wipe knives before sharpening, because greasy or wet surfaces coat the grinding wheel and impede its efficiency.

Most electric opener magnets will not hold aluminum lids; such tops must be "hinged" by stopping the cutting action before the lid is completely cut. Rimless cans, those which contain evaporated milk, cannot be opened electrically so it is wise to hold on to "old faithful" manual openers. This type also needs to be kept clean by washing in hot suds, preferably after each use.

Current electric openers—which come in pastels, brushed chrome, woodtones, and even avocado—are designed with a "clean look" and deserve to be kept that way. Whatever the cabinet, it should be wiped off frequently with a clean cloth. Abrasive cleaners are not recommended. The cord should be disconnected, pulled taut through a folded damp cloth, then wiped dry before reuse.

Using Popularity Of Homemade Bread
Look and listen. To a growing, enthusiastic group of women, the old, who are learning to bake yeast breads for the most part, these devotees of fresh, homemade bread are inexperienced. But their appreciation for fine foods includes "different" breads—sourdough, native loaves characteristic of foreign lands, ethnic breads, and holiday breads. And their sophisticated palates lure them into the kitchen to discover the joy of homemade yeast breads.

These new breadmakers are eager and anxious about their adventure. They are hungry for information and recipes; they ask questions. Their queries are reasonable and the information they seek can be a guide to help you in teaching your daughter, who will be baking in their own kitchens in just a few years.

The Wheat Flour Institute in Chicago prepared the answers to the following questions spotlighted in this column.

Saturday Cutback At Post Offices Stalled a Week

Post offices here were open for the usual Saturday morning window hours, receiving notices late Friday that Congressional action that day had stalled the earlier order for curtailment of Saturday services.

Locally, the notices were received about 7:40 p.m. Friday. Regular hours are 8:30 a.m. until noon.

In Washington, the Senate late Friday voted to exclude the Post Office Department from the economy push, and it was decided to postpone the post office cutback a week to give the House time to reach a decision.

5th Division Amvet Meet Held Yesterday

Francis Swinnen, Mt. Vernon, national service officer of the 5th Division Amvets, was speaker yesterday afternoon at a division meeting in the Amvets Post 51 Home, 5100 Lake drive.

Also attending were Charles Hunnman, Mt. Vernon, division commander; Charles Howard, Mt. Vernon, first vice-commander; Fred Mitchell, Harrisburg, second vice-commander, and Joe Poriot, Harrisburg, third vice-commander.

Others present were Ray Baril, Mt. Vernon, division adjutant; Steve Konkovich, Granite City, public relations officer; Ben Sanders, Granite City, division finance officer; Joe Wickham, commander of the Granite City Post and division chaplain, and Allen Rich, Legislative officer.

Swinnen told the group that servicemen who have served in the war at Vietnam are being discharged at the rate of 70,000 per month, and that these men will be offered a free one-year membership in the Amvets as an inducement to join the organization.

Plans were announced for the annual division chicken fry to be held Aug. 31 on the fair grounds at Mt. Vernon.

A committee in charge of the newly-remodeled kitchen at the Post 51 home here was named and includes Ben Sanders, William Grable, Dave Murphy and Rex Mangler. Leo Clements was named chairman of the Post 51 turkey shoot which will begin Sept. 15 and continue through Dec. 22. Funds from this project are used to furnish Christmas baskets for the needy.

Phoney Prescriptions Used to Obtain Drugs

Prescription blanks stolen from the office of two Granite City doctors in May are being used to obtain narcotics from drug stores in East Alton and Wood River, police here have been informed.

More than 100 blanks were stolen from the office of Dr. David Friedman and Dr. Harold Toussaint at the Bellefonte Village about two months ago.

A physician's name had been forged and fictitious names with Granite City street addresses were used to purchase codeine, a powerful amphetamine prescribed for dieting.

The practice was discovered by Norman Winter, a former pharmacist at the Bellefonte Reese drug store who recently was transferred to the Reese store in the Eastgate shopping center.

He told police he became suspicious when two women presented a prescription containing Dr. Friedman's name. He said it was an apparent forgery, and he stalled the women, telling them the prescription would be filled the next day. He notified police, but the women did not return.

Parking Lot Accident

The front bumper of the parked auto of Jack E. Weed, 900 Greenwood street, Alton, was dented by a car which was backed out of a parking space at the main post office in Granite City and then left the scene.

Furnishings Needed for Day Center at State Hospital

The Madison County Mental Health Association is sponsoring a community drive to obtain lamps, tables, chairs, sofas, picturecases, lounge chairs, rugs, pictures and other living room furniture that must be procured before the new day hospital program on the Madison County Unit of Alton State Hospital can go into operation. The day hospital is a program that will serve those persons who do not need total care hospitalization but do need more than the minimal contact with a mental health clinic. They will spend an entire day in an intensive therapeutic program. This program is designed to provide an easier transition and better community adjustment for a patient discharged from Alton State Hospital. A similar program set up in the Madison-Venice area, though presently functioning on much smaller scale, is the Lee Wright Homes Day Care Center.

Any one having the above named items to furnish this room are asked to contact either the Edwardsville number, 656-7123 or the Alton number 465-5593, extension 337.

Windshield Damaged

The windshield of a car driven by John W. Kozak, 3141 Fehling, road, was damaged at 11:50 a.m. Sunday when a passing auto flipped a rock into it at Broadway and State street in Venice. Police said the other car was driven by Forrest Hutchison, Caseyville.
